Letter from San Francisco.

[illegible] under date of April 24th. The letter seems to have been delayed, but we make use of the [illegible]

The demonstration on Wednesday last was considered the most solemn and largest ever witnessed [illegible] there were nearly twenty thousand people walking in line; the military were [illegible] eight abreast, making a procession [illegible] long.

This certainly is not as lively a city as I have ever [illegible] during the past few weeks. On the arrival of the news of the fall of Richmond, &c. the [illegible] and the Copperheads were scarcely visible. When the tidings of the President's assassination came [illegible] Montgomery Street was the [illegible] In less than two hours after the receipt of the news the stores were closed and draped in mourning, and flags waved at half mast, while the sidewalks were thronged with excited and sorrowful faces, commenting on the sad affair, and wondering when the end was to be. The papers that had exhibited treasonable tendencies were [illegible] and parties were found to give [illegible] attention. The Democratic Press was [illegible] disposed of, as being the largest fish, [illegible] the smaller ones were attended to, winding up that part of the programme by General McDowell taking all these papers in hand and [illegible] them in possession. During several [illegible] might follow this demonstration on the [illegible] called out the military [illegible] the whole city under guard, which was continued for three days, but no other demonstrations were made. Almost everybody was out and the whole city from one end to the other was [illegible] The colored people made a creditable display and the Chinamen closed up the line in carriages.

Although there has been a steamer a week, besides numerous sailing vessels, belonging to your place, there appears to be a steady demand for [illegible] passage by every steamer. Posters and advertisements proclaim the shortest and cheapest route to Cariboo to be by Red Bluff and [illegible] freight and passage taken at low rates; but thus far I have not heard of any parties disposed to return that way.

It is surprising what a change has come over the views of the Californians during the past few [illegible] in regard to the Oregonians and their State. It used to be, during the first term of Judge [illegible] administration, that Court proceedings would describe the arrest of parties for swindling [illegible] and your people were all considered the same; but now they [illegible] speak respectful enough to a merchant or resident of Oregon, and all say they should have had to starve out the last winter, but for the [illegible] produce from your State and many [illegible] would willingly change their [illegible]

[illegible] and are ready to risk their last [illegible] in any speculation that offers. Notwithstanding the severe losses the people here have met with in mining speculations, there are some going crazy in the oil fever and if that does not touch them nothing short of strychnine will, as they never will get oil wells to pay on the [illegible]

While there has been an exodus from these shores of theatrical celebrities, we are being blessed already and in prospect with a feast of musical entertainments in operas, concerts, &c. We have a full company of Italian Opera, while there is another on the way, besides Gottschalk and troupe. Yours, J. W. J. P.

The News of President Lincoln's Assassination Received in England

True to the [illegible] of race and sentiment, England has received the news of the assassination of the late President with all the generous sympathy we could have desired. It would seem that no news had ever shaken the public mind of Great Britain with more power than did this. Its effect upon "'Change" was most apparent. In the estimate placed upon the influence of Lincoln in preserving and maintaining friendly relations between the two countries, was manifested by a fall in securities, upon the reception of the news of his death. Some of the English papers showed respect for his memory by columns dressed in mourning, while they united to extol and eulogize the man, whose plain and unpretending character has made its impress upon the present century, and added one more to the number of men who will be named in the future as models of virtue and of great and enduring worth.

The English press speak of Lincoln as we speak of him. It eulogises his name in wholesome strains of compliment, but appreciates and records his title to a greatness that claims the homage of worth and the affection of the people, while it sees in the policy he has pursued, a freedom from prejudice and passion that raises his name far above the selfishness and strife that is so purely human.

Our dispatches of to-day give the particulars from Liverpool and London. When the sad news was made known there, meetings were held, and signs of mourning were discovered. The people in the earnestness of the great common heart that throbs in unison with virtue, and in sympathy with sorrow, have been heard from, no doubt, in every part of England, and their voice, heard in such a moment as this, comes with more force and power than the hackneyed tones of politicians can exercise, who have been willing to do us so many injuries. London, the great metropolis and the capital of the Empire has spoken, and the voice of the Commons, just convened, unites to present to Minister Adams an address expressive of sympathy and friendly feeling. Liverpool, the mart of commerce, has shown by its conduct, that the murder of our President has created a common sorrow, in which the Anglo Saxon race may join, and judging from these acts we hear of already, we may justly calculate that when the great interior towns are reported, the entire sentiment of the English nation will be found to harmonize with ours.

From the continent, we hear little as yet, but while we may safely anticipate that the sympathy of all nations will be accorded, we from none can we expect to receive the same proofs of it, as from a nation, literally united to our own, and a people kindred to us in blood and feeling.

It is a satisfaction to know that wherever the English tongue is spoken, the name of Lincoln will be reverenced and his virtues remembered. It becomes all nations, who are so closely allied, to act in fairness and harmony. It is to be hoped that we will continue to maintain friendly relations with all. England is now prepared to do us justice in many points, possibly in all. There will be something to forget, perhaps, and we may bear a remembrance of acts that we deemed unfriendly; but we must ever recognize that the English people, as a class, are identified with ourselves, and that the common sympathy that is drawing each to each, is superior to the miserable subterfuges of politicians, or to the trickery of State.

STATE ITEMS.—Mr. Post, writing from the Cascades, tells of a man named Hill, claiming to be a cousin or brother of the rebel General, who lately left there on short notice. "He was known here as a horse thief, cattle thief and all other kinds of a thief—was kicked out of another man's house for stealing and refusing to pay rent, and given twenty-four hours to leave the country." So says our correspondent.

B. F. Dowell, of Jacksonville, informs us that times are unusually good in the south of Oregon. Mining is a paying business there now, and more money circulates than for a long time previous.

An old friend from Auburn says that water is already abundant there, and the mines are paying well. Times generally are looking up, and business of all kinds reviving. The mines around Auburn will pay a handsome profit for working this year, and the amount of free water will surpass that of all former years. The Auburn Canal Company are already able to supply water. The mines on Burnt river and Clark's creek will do well also for the same reasons, while Mormon basin will astonish everybody. He says Grande Ronde valley is a lake in great part. Emigrants who flattered themselves that they had good places to raise crops, find in some instances the water up swimming deep at their doors.

Another quartz mill for Idaho arrived by the last steamer, and the report of freight going by Red Bluffs is said to be a wholesale fabrication. This is the road for freight and passengers to go to Idaho.

The flood in the Blue Mountains has carried away many bridges. Among others, those on the Meacham road down Grand Ronde river. This road has been built at great cost, and was appreciated by the traveling public as one of the most useful enterprises on the Boise route. Messrs. Meacham must necessarily be considerably loser, which we regret, but hope to soon hear that their road is in traveling condition again.

From New Westminster, British Columbia.

NEW WESTMINSTER, May 11.—Cariboo dates to April 8th received.

The weather on William's creek was warm and pleasant, and the snow disappearing rapidly, causing the water in the creek to rise considerably.

A considerable number of claims were being worked, nearly all paying well. Miners arriving daily.

Market prices had experienced a decline—flour falling as low as 60 cts per pound. Stocks, pretty full for the season.

Rich pay dirt, yielding 49 ounces in two hours has been found on Lightning creek. The news caused great excitement.

The steamer Labelle arrived from Nanaimo. The Knight Horse was taking in a cargo of [illegible] tons of coal.

Sailed—the Annie, last Saturday, with 1[illegible] tons; the John Day, yesterday, with 700 tons, all for San Francisco.

A fire occurred there on Monday, consuming 18 cottages just finished by the Vancouver coal company, for their workmen; loss between two thousand and three hundred dollars.

Victoria files contain nothing of interest.

The Sheet Anchor had arrived—14 days from San Francisco.

Thirty [illegible] canoes arrived yesterday, containing three hundred Indians from the Gulf, to attend the celebration of the Queen's birth day. It is estimated that we will have from eight to ten thousand present on the occasion.

The weather continues fine.

[DESPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO MAY 7.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—It has been ascertained that Jeff. Davis and his flying Cabinet has with them about [illegible] thousand dollars each in specie, or three hundred [illegible], and dollars in gold. Cavalry [illegible] of capturing [illegible]. They [illegible] with [illegible] would be [illegible] that Davis will not have more than a corporal's guard by the time he crosses the Mississippi river, if he succeeds in getting that far. The [illegible] of the [illegible] to have been the [illegible] of the [illegible] murder of [illegible] of [illegible] in the late campaign. Hampton [illegible] with his own sword. A Raleigh [illegible] says Jeff. Davis passed through Charlotte on April [illegible]. The opinion of loyal citizens is that he will escape [illegible] reach out of the [illegible] where a light draught steamer [illegible] and [illegible] his treasure out of the country.

A correspondent who recently rode from Sherman to Sheridan's lines, says the planters are extensively engaged in cultivating their lands. There is a vast amount of tobacco on hand. Jeff Davis did not leave Johnston's lines till the [illegible] of Sherman's truce. He was at Monroe, N. C., on the 23d of April.

About the Assassination Plotters.

NEW YORK, May 8.—The Times' special dispatch says: It is thought to be understood that the recent Proclamation offering a reward for the apprehension of Jeff. Davis as one of the parties implicated in the assassination of Lincoln, was [illegible] by [illegible] of Johnson [illegible] individual [illegible] to the proper legal authorities. It was first unanimously decided in a Cabinet meeting, that parties in any way connected with the conspiracy, should be tried by a military tribunal and not by a civil court. All testimony relating to the matter, was then placed formally in the hands of Judge Advocate Holt, who examined it carefully and reported to the Secretary, giving it as his official opinion, that the evidence proved Davis to have been concerned in the conception and execution of the plot. It was upon this official report the Proclamation was based.

The military court trial of assassins met to-day. General Hunter present. Nothing was done beyond arranging the rules. The trial by military commission is in accordance with the order of the President, issued May 1st, the Attorney General having given an opinion that the persons implicated in the conspiracy, are subject to the jurisdiction and legally liable before a military tribunal.

Surrender talked of in the South West.

NEW YORK, May 8.—The New Orleans correspondence contains additional particulars of the negotiations for the surrender of Kirby Smith's entire Trans-Mississippi rebel army. The meeting to arrange preliminaries took place April 23d at the mouth of Red river, at which Colonel Sprague represented General Pope and Colonel Seymoske appeared on behalf of Gen. Smith. These officers were to have another conference at the same place May 2d. Of the result of the latter meeting nothing is known, but it was understood the terms proposed were the same as those given to Lee and Johnston.

There were rumors at New Orleans, April 30th, that the rebel Gen. Dick Taylor and Forrest had made formal proposition for the surrender of their forces. General Canby left New Orleans suddenly for Mobile. It was believed he went there for the purpose of receiving Taylor's surrender. It is not to be made public till the termination of the interview. Taylor returned to Mississippi and Canby to Mobile. Little doubt is entertained that Taylor will shortly surrender unconditionally.

General Army News.

NEW YORK, May 8.—The Tribune's special dispatch says: It is understood that Sheridan is to be President of the assassination courtmartial.

Arrangements are being made to pay all the troops that rendezvous about Washington, prior to mustering out. The force to be kept in service, will not exceed one hundred and fifty thousand, and these mostly colored troops. When reorganized, the army will consist of four corps of thirty thousand each, one of regulars, one of white volunteers and two of colored volunteers. Each will have cavalry, artillery and infantry in proper proportions.

The Herald's North Carolina dispatches give various rumors of the whereabouts of Jeff. Davis, but none later or more definite than that of last week, which represented him to be in flight one day ahead of Stoneman. The report that he was obliged to abandon his specie train, is contradicted.

The Herald's correspondent gives farther details of the surrender of Johnson. Over 20,000 men surrendered. A large number of them did not wait for paroles, but started off as soon as they learned of the capitulation, and are now engaged in pillaging, and, probably destroyed [illegible]. Over 100 pieces of artillery were surrendered. Among the others surrendered, is the notorious [illegible] of the pirate Alabama.

NEW YORK, May 9.—The Richmond Whig of the 8th records the march, through that city on Saturday of the second and fifth corps of the Army of the Potomac.

The 14th corps of Sherman's army arrived at Richmond on the 6th. The 15th, 17th and 20th are within one day's march. They marched 190 miles in six days.

Sailed—the ship Black Hawk for San Francisco.

Miscellaneous.

WASHINGTON, May 8.—A protracted Cabinet meeting was held at the Treasury Department to-day. It is thought the question of unrestricted trade with [illegible] states [illegible] will be the main subject under consideration.

The President has ordered the release of [illegible], it is understood there was no just cause for his arrest by the military authorities at Charleston.

PHILADELPHIA, May 9.—Subscriptions to the 7-30 loan to-day were over $3,000,000. One banking house to [illegible].

NEW YORK, May 8.—A Washington special says: The [illegible] of North Carolina is [illegible] kind that can be relied on. Princess Anne [illegible] [illegible] State Rights' theory. In Vance's [illegible] Union meetings were [illegible]. The resolutions declare they [illegible] the United States [illegible] in the [illegible] of law and order [illegible].

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The subject of trade and commerce with insurrectionary States was again considered in the Cabinet to-day. The importance of unrestricted commercial intercourse as an agent in reconstruction and pacification was fully appreciated by the President and the Cabinet, and the only discussion was as to how it can best be accomplished. The laws were found to [illegible] very different condition of affairs.

NEW YORK, May 9.—Galveston dates of the [illegible] stating that a Federal attack on the coast of Texas was momentarily expected, has been received.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The loyal State Government of Virginia will be removed to Richmond next week, where Gov. Pierpont will begin the reconstruction of civil authority throughout the State.

The general financial condition of the Southern states, as effecting commercial returns, are being considered in the Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The Commissioner of Patents has extended the patent of N. Goodyear for inventing hard rubber for seven years. The extension was granted on account of the novelty and utility of the invention.

At a public meeting to-night speeches were made and resolutions passed having in view the [illegible]. [Here the line was broken by lightning between Carson and Salt Lake.]

Foreign.

NEW YORK, May 8.—The London Star thinks recent events have materially altered the state of things from what it was when England recognized the rebels as belligerents and says Jeff. Davis with his supporting at Danville is a very different person in view of international law from Jefferson Davis at Richmond, backed by his army. The United States have a right to question the right to inquire the validity of the commission of Davis' [illegible] and that a [illegible] of the United States [illegible] not be subjected to vexatious restrictions.

The Star, mentions the necessity of the speedy restoration of the trade between England and the South and says they can with propriety make representations to the American Government to this respect as and as they recognize them to be belligerents.

FARTHER POINT, May 8.—The principal journals of London also describe the intense excitement which the latest news created and alike give utterance to warm eulogiums upon President Lincoln and bitter denunciations of the assassination. The Paris and continental journals contain articles on the subject. The scene on change at Liverpool will not soon be forgotten. The excitement has seldom, if ever, been exceeded. Late in the day a public meeting was called [illegible] to the Mayor to call a public [illegible] of the [illegible] the people. The Mayor [illegible] St. George's Hall [illegible] April [illegible] to the [illegible] [illegible] that the [illegible] [illegible] of [illegible] flags on Change [illegible] of other [illegible] [illegible] at Liverpool were at half mast.

The Liverpool Post and Mercury [illegible] [illegible].

The Times says: Nothing [illegible] [illegible] that [illegible] [illegible] the President's death [illegible] of every [illegible] England [illegible] that the [illegible] relations between England and the United States as well as [illegible] of material [illegible] of the [illegible] countries.

The Times generally say the news will be received throughout Europe with sorrow and dread and produce a [illegible] in the United States.

The Daily News says Lincoln has not fallen in the hour of triumph, [illegible] was in that hour [illegible] heart. His work was accomplished. The battle of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] done, and [illegible] for the [illegible] more than [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] will be held in [illegible].

The Star pays a warm tribute [illegible] his statesman policy [illegible] [illegible] patient [illegible] great confidence that the [illegible] of [illegible] with [illegible] magnanimity and justice [illegible] triumph."

The Herald says: [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] from the [illegible] against [illegible] this great ruler was killed. At last came what seemed to be the greatest of his labors [illegible] courage. [illegible] Richmond [illegible] but [illegible] [illegible] to the South, for the fight appeared to [illegible] [illegible] [illegible].

Much [illegible] was [illegible] [illegible] that Andrew Johnson would take the place and [illegible] were drawn from his conduct at the inauguration at Washington and from the tenor of his various speeches.

The Times hopes that he will resign voluntarily if [illegible] the opinion should be so expressed.

The Daily News says it has made careful inquiry and is assured, on intimate authority, that the incidents so [illegible] which occurred at the installation of the Vice President, cannot without injustice, be taken to represent Johnson's character.

The news of the assassination was published throughout England on the 26th April.

The sympathies with the South evinced as much of a feeling of indignation as the warmest friends of the North. It was the all-absorbing topic of conversation, and caused an almost entire suspension of business, especially at Liverpool. Consols declined nearly one per cent, but subsequently rallied slightly.

Wednesday, the 26th, was the only day of the session of Parliament. The attendance was slim. Sixty members were present. Mr. [illegible] the following address, which was presented to Minister Adams the same evening:

We, the undersigned members of the Commons have learned with the deepest regret and horror that the President of the United States has been deprived of life by an act of violence, and we desire to express our sympathy with the sad event to the American Minister now in London, as well as to declare our hope and confidence in the future of that great country, which we trust, will continue to be associated with freedom and peaceful relations with this and every other country.

California News.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 11.—The Ocean House track is now completed and in excellent order for the great race between Norfolk and Lodi on the 23d inst. Lodi was brought down from Napa on Tuesday, and is now in training at the track. Norfolk is at Oakland. The greatest interest is manifested in this race, not only in California but throughout the Eastern States.

The days of grace allowed to deserters under the proclamation of President Lincoln, expired yesterday. The soldiers on this coast have had but 20 days' notice, owing to the lapse of time in transmitting the proclamation. Gen. McDowell has telegraphed to Washington, asking that a further extension of 40 days be granted on this coast.

The board of fire underwriters held a meeting this morning and passed a resolution that all the fire insurance offices shall join with the merchants in the general closing up on Saturday afternoons.

The leading topic of conversation in financial and commercial circles to-day, is the heavy decline in gold in New York, as advised by private dispatches.

The price on the 10th inst. received at the Mint, is 133, but other dispatches of the same date quote 13[illegible] with supplementary intelligence of a panic in the general markets. This news caused a very buoyant feeling in the Legal Tender market here. The stock market remains depressed, with no indications of immediate renewal. There is on the whole rather more activity in local merchandise markets to-day, and the decline in gold in New York, strengthens the views of holders of most kinds of goods, particularly in view of the comparative small quantity coming forward, there being only twenty-seven vessels now on the way [illegible] [illegible] at the corresponding date of last year.

From foreign ports there are 15 vessels on the way against 25 at the same date in 1864. The fall in gold at the east has further strengthened the market for spirits, and enhanced prices. There is a general demand for all kinds of domestic. A lot of 75 bbls of common high proof whisky, ex [illegible], has been sold in the market [illegible] 25 [illegible] bbls Eastern [illegible] private [illegible].

[illegible] the volume of business is [illegible] an average extent to-day, and prices without material change. [illegible] of 226 bbls. [illegible] sold for export on private terms.

GREAT POPULAR LOAN

Of the People!

Less than $300,000,000 of the Loan authorized by the last Congress are now on the market.

This amount, at the rate at which it is being absorbed, will all be subscribed for within four months, when the notes will undoubtedly command a premium, as has uniformly been the case on closing the subscriptions to other Loans.

In order that citizens of every town and section of the country may be afforded facilities for taking the loan, the National Banks, State Banks and Private Bankers throughout the country have generally agreed to receive subscriptions at par. Subscribers will select their own agents, in whom they have confidence, and who only are to be responsible for the delivery of the notes for which they receive orders.

New York Gold Quotations [illegible]

The Yield of the Mines.—The following figures [illegible] the Sacramento Bee show the steady decrease of the gold and increase in the silver yield of the Pacific Coast during the past years:

Years.	Silver.	Gold.	Total.
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

A portion of the gold decline was the [illegible] scarcity of labor, and [illegible] will be supplied this year [illegible] the mining regions, and the [illegible] for five or six years [illegible] made available. We have [illegible] assert that the great [illegible] about Florence and [illegible] less than a tenth part [illegible] would have been. It [illegible] perhaps 20 per cent. [illegible] of the Idaho would supply [illegible] is the same, and [illegible] the ledges of the country [illegible] and it would not [illegible] In 1864, [illegible] or for many [illegible] know that California and Nevada [illegible] present year, but it is [illegible] all more than double [illegible] being discovered [illegible] territory has been explored [illegible] of 1864, which [illegible] proprietor of this section [illegible] paid $1,000 for [illegible] that has been held [illegible] is sold, except [illegible] the year for the development [illegible] the City and Grand Ronde [illegible] a rich auriferous section [illegible] mills, now we have a number [illegible] are located. Last year [illegible] the year mills will be in operation [illegible] say we think the yield of the mines [illegible] increase, and bear up in a more than corresponding percentage with gold.

Natural History.—Mr. [illegible] Douglas, of [illegible] goes on to Washington by the steamer [illegible] tomorrow, recommended as a suitable person [illegible] in Oregon for the collection of rare specimens [illegible] reptiles, etc., abounding on the north west coast, for the [illegible] Institute. Mr. Douglas is a [illegible] of the first order. He has [illegible] most effectually for [illegible] and samples of his work [illegible] of the Bulletin, and especially that of Mr. Wood [illegible] the field for his labors [illegible] in behalf of such a noble institution as [illegible] at Washington under the above head. There [illegible] variety of water-fowls to be found on our [illegible] which are unknown, and some hundreds [illegible] may serve the historian of future years [illegible] in his researches after the zoology of the Columbia, and the straits and sounds of our coast. As the country became settled, these birds decrease, leaving [illegible] haunts. During the explorations of [illegible] in 1824-25-26, he found many varieties of birds [illegible] not now exist here, and it will be [illegible] to secure what remains. [illegible] of ducks known to any one latitude, may be found [illegible] at present, we believe, very many of which have already been secured by Mr. Douglas. He [illegible] with the several rare specimens of birds, among [illegible] an opaque white specimen of the brown species of [illegible] found both in Europe and America, [illegible] of this class, also a number of water-fowls [illegible] prepared. We hope he may be [illegible] his labors, both as to himself and the advantages to be obtained by his appointment to the country and science.

A Traveling Monkey.—A lot of humor is just now going the rounds of the California papers, at the expense of [illegible] Bell, who is well known in this city. It seems that [illegible] was traveling as advance agent for [illegible] & [illegible] concert troupe, in a vehicle bearing [illegible] to a peddler's cart, and had frequently been stopped on the road by "whole families anxious to buy." [illegible] he entered into a colloquy with an old lady, and in answer to her questions related that he was [illegible] agent for a great menagerie, a most stupendous [illegible] of animals, etc. [illegible] elephants [illegible] very unimportant part of the show, the greatest curiosity by far being a learned and classically educated monkey, brought up by a Mahomedan priest in the [illegible] of the great desert of Sahara. This monkey speaks fluently all the modern languages, besides Latin, Greek, and Hebrew. He can repeat the [illegible] perform the most intricate examples in [illegible] repeat long speeches, and—" Here a beautiful young lady suddenly protrudes her head from [illegible] door, and calls out "Mother, mother, ask him [illegible] let the monkey travel so far in advance of the [illegible]" Frank raised his eye, took his feet from [illegible] hand, lifted his whip and started on, in order to [illegible] before dark.

The Oregonian.—This old steamer which has now become [illegible] the line of the California Steam Navigation Company [illegible] to this port, was sold for $[illegible],000 by the [illegible] Steamship Company. For the last fifteen months [illegible] been bleaching in the sun at Benicia [illegible] the want of a cost or two of paint. She [illegible] to steady business in Oregon, of course, [illegible] has passed into present hands, but impressions [illegible] formed, that conclusively show that a vessel [illegible] better adapted could have been constructed, and [illegible] wholly new, thus giving far better satisfaction, for [illegible] little more money. But we suppose in all respects [illegible] be made to answer the purpose, as she is well [illegible] and has good passenger accommodations. We [illegible] a liking for the Oregonian yet, but if we do it will be strongly toward the officers, Capt. DeWolf, Mr. [illegible] Chief officer, and that Prince among Stewards, [illegible]. They will make any ship home like.

Movements.—Lieut. Bowen, with twenty-[illegible] men of the First Oregon Cavalry, went up [illegible] on the Hunt. They are to take post at Fort [illegible] Capt. Williams' company of the First Oregon [illegible] will probably leave the Dalles to [illegible] for Camp [illegible] on the Canyon City road. A portion [illegible] Capt. [illegible] company will be detached as an escort to Mr. [illegible] surveying party, and expect to be on the [illegible] five months. Another company of the First Oregon Infantry, Capt. Waters', will leave Vancouver [illegible] for Walla Walla, from which post a part of [illegible] will go as escort to Mr. [illegible] surveying [illegible]. One of the above surveying parties will establish [illegible] line through to Nevada.

[illegible] Court.—In Circuit Court yesterday, the suit [illegible] of Frances L. Davis vs. Jas. W. [illegible] & Larrabee for plaintiff, Wolff & Kimble for [illegible], was argued and submitted. [illegible] Beale and [illegible] Cronin, Esq., were, upon motion, admitted to [illegible]. Motion to correct a portion of the report of [illegible] in the case of Gillihan vs. Gilbert, et al, [illegible] of Scott, Wait & Kelly, was argued.

[illegible], a Poet Among Us.—The question of "have [illegible] a poet among us?" is finally decided by the following [illegible] evidence, which was deposited in the express [illegible] city yesterday, on the envelope of a letter:

To Geo. W. Smith, an unmarried gent,
With postage fee, this letter is sent,
[illegible] Idaho City I wish it to go,
In greatest haste, by Wells, Fargo & Co.

A [illegible] Contest.—The three fellows committed to jail from the Recorder's Court yesterday, were the first [illegible] of undisguised rowdies. They had been in the enjoyment of a free fight at the Shakespeare Hotel, and had stripped for the regular rounds to test the championship, when Policeman Saunders interfered, in the [illegible] and by [illegible] a horse and cart caged the [illegible] but not without a spirited opposition. Their [illegible] convinced his Hon. the Recorder that the case merited a penalty to the full extent of offended law, and they got it.

Personal.—By the steamer Oregonian came as passengers, Hon. G. E. Cole, of Washington Territory, Messrs. John Green and J. M. Strowbridge, and Dr. R. B. Wil[illegible], whose friends will be glad to see him as well as ever, [illegible] benefitted by his journey. [illegible] Several old Oregonians leave by the same steamer [illegible], among them W. H. [illegible], Esq., and his family, who go to California. Mr. [illegible] has been [illegible] years identified with Oregon interests [illegible] the project of erecting [illegible] It will be the first in that State.

Recorder's Court.—In Recorder's Court yesterday the [illegible] cases, some of them pretty hard ones, were disposed of. Jas. Murray and Jas. Gross by a fine of $[illegible] and costs, which they paid for misdemeanors. Henry [illegible], Fox Gills, and Daniel Lamphere, each in default of payment of fines $25, $15 and $10 respectively, with [illegible] costs, for violent and disorderly conduct, were committed "in a batch" to jail, where they should be set at work picking curb stone.

Blighted Fruit.—By a close examination of the latest [illegible] cherries, and in fact most kinds of stone fruit, it will be found that they were badly blighted by the late [illegible] spell of weather. They have utterly withered on the [illegible]. Fruit of the earlier blossoms [illegible] formed before the unusually heated term. Apples do not appear to be suffering, and promise an abundant crop in these parts. Gardens about the city are suffering for the want of rain.

[illegible] Boilers.—The steamship Oregonian brought [illegible] some heavy machinery on her present trip, among which are two steam boilers. The high water prevents the use of the lower deck in discharging freight, and is not sufficiently high to permit taking the boilers off on the upper deck, and to obviate the difficulty the O. S. N. [illegible] Steamer Julia was yesterday placed alongside the steamship to [illegible] them.

Oregon Cigars.—Mr. John Collins, of Sauvies' Island, [illegible] the office with a cigar, manufactured from Natural Leaf, grown in Oregon. When the dredger [illegible], so that the sand bars of the Willamette [illegible] be removed, we shall contribute this cigar to the [illegible] "mouth" for a smoke.

[illegible] Down.—Capt. Williams' bark dropped down to the stave manufactory yesterday afternoon, to receive that part of her cargo for Honolulu. It did not [illegible] much, and she will proceed to Springville and Oak Point this morning.

Promoted.—Governor Gibbs has appointed Colonel Jn[illegible] McCraken, of the Oregon State Militia, Brigadier General, vice Coffin resigned. Mr. McCraken was the ranking Colonel, and having been very active in the discharge of his past obligations we may look for an efficient officer in him under the new appointment.

Freight by the Oregonian.—The freight will all be out of the steamer to-night. Mr. Allen informs us, and tomorrow evening she leaves the wharf at the foot of [illegible] street for San Francisco by way of Victoria.

Messages are at the telegraph office for P. Hogeboom, Thomas K. Cleaver and Mrs Bekely.

California Stage Company and the Mails.

Portland, May 11, 1865.

Ed. Oregonian:

In common with many citizens of Portland who are readers of the San Francisco Bulletin, I have noticed the remarks of its Oregon correspondent, in its daily issue of April 26th, reflecting unfavorably upon the way the California Stage Company have performed the mail service during the present year. As those remarks are far from correct, and those statements [illegible] are [illegible] as they are [illegible] I wish to say through the Oregonian that the service has [illegible] and if any copy of The Oregonian was [illegible] which it reached here, it was the result of some accident in [illegible] and not in connection with the [illegible] The Postmasters of Portland and Sacramento have already certified to the Post Office Department in accordance with my statement.

Cure Your Cold, Save Your Lungs.

NEWELL'S

PULMONARY SYRUP

HAS

CURED THOUSANDS!

And it will Cure You!

"A Cough is generally the effect of a Cold, which has either been improperly treated or entirely neglected. When it proves obstinate there is Always reason to fear the consequences,

as this shows a weak state of the lungs, and is often the fore runner of Consumption."—(Buchanan's Domestic Medicine.

STOP THAT COUGHING!

Some of you can't, and we pity you. You have tried every remedy but the one destined, by its intrinsic merit, to supercede all similar preparations. It is not surprising you should be reluctant to try something else after the many experiments you have made of trashy compounds, foisted on the public as a certain cure; but

Pulmonary Syrup!

Is really the VERY BEST remedy ever compounded for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Consumption. Thousands of people in California and Oregon have been already benefited by its surprising curative powers.

WHAT KILLED HIM!

Dr. Hall, in his "Journal of Health," speaking of the death of Washington Irving, asks the above question, and adds: "He might have remained with us for some years to come, had it not been for advice, kindly intended, no doubt, but given in thoughtlessness and reckless ignorance.

He Had a Cold!

Which, by some injudicious prescription had been converted into asthma." Let me say to Dr. Hall that that "prescription" was not

NEWELL'S PULMONARY SYRUP.

KEEP IT IN THE HOUSE, use it freely, give it to your children upon the slightest indications of a Cold, and you will think and speak of it as all do who have become acquainted with its merits.

ALLEN'S

LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts, gives strength to the digestive organs, brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION. IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.
